Are you ready to make a 10 YEAR commitment?

- Rabbits are NOT low-maintenance pets - they require as much work as a dog or cat.
- Rabbits have a life expectancy of 8-10 years - some have been known to live 16+ years!
- Rabbits have fragile skeletal systems and can be seriously injured by small, inexperienced hands.
- A rabbit’s diet must include unlimited grass hay, fresh veggies and high quality pellets. (A pellet only diet is not a healthy diet).
- Rabbits are not comfortable with their feet off the ground - most don’t like being picked up and may cause injuries with their sharp claws.
- The necessary spay/neuter costs $100 (or more). Rabbits require an “exotics” vet as medications can differ from what is used for a dog or cat.
- Rabbits turned loose to fend for themselves typically survive less than 24 hours.

REMEMBER, NO PET IS DISPOSABLE.
